Nevertheless, that mayor of Timpan, Texas, who gets a salary of $1 per year is also getting a fine lot of free advertising along with it.

Now it is reported that "razorless shaves" have been perfected. Mr. Rufus Rastus Johnson Brown will see to it, however, that razorless "scrapes" are never perfected.

Mr. Richard Croker says "America needs a quiet president." If Mr. Croker isn't careful, we will be spelling his name "Cronker" over on this side of the big pond.

Now that Raisuli is reported dead, nothing but kind words are being said in his memory; however, it may or may not be significant that it isn't quite sure that he is dead.

"Ida M. Tarbell is lecturing against woman suffrage," says the Cleveland Leader. This may cause Mr. Rockefeller to suspect that, after all, there may be something worth while in that proposition.

Of course, "good rhinoceroses may be had for $4,000 each" nowadays, but strain its eyes as it may, New York is utterly unable to discover any market quotations on senatorial white elephants.

It is somewhat surprising that Mr. Freeze Quick of Pennsylvania, hasn't been coupled up with the Fairbanks boom in some manner. What's the matter with the "arctic Fairbanks" jokers?

A South Carolinian drank a quantity of gasoline, and died in a few minutes thereafter. As bad as its reputation is, we believe bibulous South Carolinians would fare better by sticking to their dispensary "booze" as between it and gasoline.

Mr. Hiram Maxim thinks this country should be constantly prepared for war, regardless of the cost. So does the ice man think the refrigerator should be kept packed with ice from one year's end to another, regardless of the cost!

A New Man gave up his seat in a street car to a lady passenger, and immediately fell dead. Nevertheless, when you go to the city, be game, and forget this when you are tempted to give up your seat to one of the dear things.

The New York Post thinks there is not much choice between congressional statesmanship and congressional poetry. We have heard some mighty mean things said about the quality of statesmanship sometimes rampant in this town, but that is certainly the limit, and something over.

The president is quoted as saying he will never purchase an automobile as long as there is a horse to be had. That is a very pretty sentiment, we think; especially so, perhaps, because a mere horse isn't the thing that stands between the average man and the purchase of an automobile.

Mr. Tom Watson thinks Washington is not a fit place for the president of the United States to live. And yet it would surprise Mr. Watson to see what a glad hand he would get from Washington, should he be elected in November.

A woman wearing a "Merry Widow" hat got lodged in the passageway of a Pullman car a few days ago, and the train was delayed over ten minutes while she was released. We have no sympathy for her; it is hard enough to squeeze through those passageways without any hat at all on your head.

A scientist estimates that the supply of water in the world will not be exhausted in less than 50,000,000 years. This of course, deprives the anti-prohibitionists of any immediately effective argument tending to show that water may become scarce unless the prohibition wave is pushed back.

MISFIT HIGH SCHOOL COURSES.
The New York Tribune states that last June "there were 26,221 in our

A DEMORALIZING ACCIDENT.

Small Athlete: "Please, sir, that Norwegian trick skater's got his foot in his coat pocket, an' he can't git it out."

Whooping Cough.

"In February our daughter had the whooping cough. Mr. Lane of Hartland, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said it gave his customers the best of satisfaction. We found it as he said, and can recommend it to anyone having children troubled with whooping cough," says Mrs. A. Goss, of Durand, Mich. For sale by all druggists.
